

INNOVATIVE PRODUCT SECURITY AND MERCHANDISING

The OneTime Audio Book Case

At last the first security case designed specifically for audiobooks or talking books. Heavy duty polypropylene case is also ideal for archiving purposes.

This special case incorporates the innovative OneTime integrated locking mechanism and of course uses the same release unit.

Small case has capacity of up to 16 discs with a large case holding up to 32 discs. Available late 2009 from Leading Solutions.

The T-SHELF-900

When it comes to merchandising AV collections more effectively, we provide a range of shelving accessories. The D-shelf 2 and 3, the Z shelf and T-shelf, these are specifically designed to help you take full advantage of your shelving when displaying audio and video products. You can easily learn more about these products on www.leadingolutions.co.nz

We've been meeting with some of your furniture suppliers and what we learned recently is that the length of your shelving is predominantly 900mm wide or multiples of that. Libraries have shown particular interest in the T-shelf for display and merchandising and asked if it can be obtained in 900mm lengths.

So we approached the manufacturer on this matter and being that they are people who listen, they decided to make this product in longer lengths specifically for the NZ market, WOW! Its sometimes hard to get offshore manufactures to make changes for our little market but hey its all about relationships!

Environmentally Friendly

We are all conscious of the growing significance of our impact on the environment. The manufacturers we deal with have specific programs designed to ensure that consciousness is reflected in their products. The Eco CD case is now even more environmentally friendly.

The unique method of reduction in plastic content and weight has now been included in the insert (inner tray) of the eco CD case. Remembering that these plastics also qualify under your local recycling regulations.

LIANZA Conference

Really doesn't seem long ago when Leading Solutions had its debut at LIANZA as a first time sponsor to LIANZA 2008 in Auckland. Now we're getting excited about the Christchurch event and looking forward to exhibiting and presenting our product portfolio there in October.

Our specialty focus there at the conference will be centred on making AV collections more effective. Adopting some simple, cost effective yet innovative solutions that are having a very positive impact in the library.

Everyone is applying new thinking to AV collections as these sectors have grown in importance in the library. Taking a new approach to visual display, merchandising and security of AV collections.

The innovative OneTime family of products is being very well received and adopted by libraries around the country so come and find out why, visit our stand at the conference and see the latest additions to this range.
